

12 May 2020

To Whom It May Concern,

The Fullone Structural Group, Inc. is a great group of people to work with. We have done multiple ground up projects with them as the Structural Engineers on our design team. Every project we have done with them has been smooth and efficient. They offer timely and cost-effective design solutions that do not compromise the architectural design intent. Their professional team of engineers is always open to collaboration with the entire project team to work through any challenges that may arise. During construction Fullone Structural Group responds to RFI's and Submittals in a timely manner, helping keep the project on schedule. It has been a pleasure working with all levels of their staff and we look forward to continuing to work with them on future projects.

Best Regards,

James Spencer, AIA, EDAC
Principal, Architect

Andrew Leffel, AIA Associate
Project Manager